Subject: angkor dance troupe web site

Dear Michael,

I just left a phone message for you regarding the Angkor Dance Troupe Web site that we are currently developing. One area of the Web site will include video and audio of our dancers (young Cambodians from Lowell), and I thought this might be an good opportunity for students at the University to get hand on experience and practice. The dancers and the dance are wonderful visually, and I'm sure we could generate interest for this with the students. I wonder if you could offer suggestions about how this might work.

Thanks,

George
